

Safe. Compliant. Chat.

Qwil Messenger solves the challenge of making chat safe and compliant when it matters most: between both internal and external parties in any organisation. Replace the use of insecure email and non-compliant social chat. See our solution in action on stage to find out more.

Securely chat and share files

- Instantly deploy your own secure, branded chat service for your organisation.
- Own, control and monitor your data to meet the latest compliance and data protection regulations (such as GDPR) and gain explicit consent from every user to your terms of usage for the service.
- Protect all participants from unknowingly putting themselves at risk of not complying with legislation.

One app for everyone

Qwil Messenger has been designed to work seamlessly on both mobile and web with all your organisations in one app. We call them "tenants", and they are accessible from the side menu whether your are a staff of one and/or a client/member/volunteer of another, with bespoke contact lists and usage terms set by each tenant. Your chats are synchronised across all your devices and can be accessed on as many devices as you like.
